Foreword

We are pleased to present to you the 1982 Mennonite Yearbook, the organizational and statistical record of the Mennonite Church in North America. This volume reflects the life of the church as it is found in its congregational, district, conference, regional, continental, and worldwide expressions.

As we move into the third year of the 80s we pause to reflect upon the vitality of the Hispanic community within the Mennonite Church. Through the reflections of José M. Ortiz, associate general secretary for Hispanic concerns of the Mennonite Church General Board, we explore the development of the Hispanic church from its beginnings in Chicago, Illinois, in 1932 and its succeeding 50-year history to the present day.

In addition, General Secretary Ivan Kauffmann of the Mennonite Church General Board focuses ten issues facing the Mennonite Church in 1982. He calls upon the church to deal with them in the context of the biennial churchwide theme "Called to One Hope."

The usual features of the Yearbook continue. New features and significant changes include (1) a detailed listing of Mennonite Mutual Aid Societies; (2) a detailed listing of publishers, publisher fellowships, and publications; (3) a new statistical table, "VIII. Comparative Mennonite and Brethren in Christ World Membership," in which the annual membership changes of the Mennonite World Conference can be seen at a glance; (4) an expansion of the Mennonite Central Committee listing; (5) a dispersal of the several detailed inter-Mennonite listings now to be included with those churchwide boards with whom they relate most directly; (6) the addition of the Guatemala Mennonite Church to the "Overseas Mennonite Churches" section; and (7) a detailed listing of urban locations and contact persons appointed by Student and Young Adult Services to be in touch with Mennonite youth.

Membership in the Mennonite Church continues to build slowly. This volume reflects a total membership of 110,350, a slight increase of 1,072 over 1981; total congregations increased from 1,247 to 1,269. Overseas, the church shows a net gain of 1,267 members. In total, the Mennonite Church now includes 144,836 members in ministry throughout the world (see Tables II and III). In the inter-Mennonite context, the Mennonite Church is a significant part of the 323,000 members (see Table VI) who comprise the Mennonite and Brethren in Christ in North America and the 659,500 members (see Tables VII and VIII) who comprise the Mennonite and Brethren in Christ bodies around the world.

Other statistical charts note that giving in 1979 moved up about 13 percent in 1980 from $403.49 to $456.80 per member (see Table XIV). While Sunday school enrollment increased slightly, the Bible school program experienced a slight decline (see Tables IX and X). Giving toward our churchwide colleges and seminaries, including alumni, stands at $24.16, a per member increase of $1.79 over 1979-80 (see Table XX).

The Mennonite Yearbook is a tool to facilitate the life of the Mennonite Church. The production of this volume is the result of the close working efforts of the staff of the Mennonite Yearbook with many pastors, conference secretaries, and representatives of numerous activities, projects, congregations, boards, and agencies to gather up-to-date information and organize it in a way that benefits the whole body.

While the schedule of data gathering stretches from July through December and the copyediting, typesetting, proofreading, layout, and printing functions stretch from October through January, the editorial and secretarial functions continue year round. Assisting in the editorial development of the annual plan for the Yearbook (such as the historical theme for the cover, whether to add, delete, or modify listings, the establishment of policies and so on) is Mildred Schrock and other staff members of the Mennonite Church General Board, Leonard Gross of the Mennonite Historical Committee, and Laurence Martin, director of the congregational literature division of the Mennonite Publishing House. Keeping the Yearbook office records up-to-date, especially the ministerial directory, mailing out the appropriate data collection forms, processing the information as it is returned, and submitting manuscript copy to production on schedule is the Yearbook office secretary Debbie Cameron. She is assisted by Penny Frey and others as needed when the pressure gets intense especially in the fall months. All of these cooperative efforts mesh together so that we can provide a most useful tool to facilitate the common life, faith, and witness of the Mennonite Church family. It places the Mennonite Church family in the context of the larger Mennonite and Brethren in Christ family, as well as in the midst the whole people of God, who shine as light and serve as salt in a decaying and darkened world that is often without clear direction and purpose.—James E. Horsch

The Mennonite Church 1982

By Ivan Kauffmann
General Secretary, Mennonite Church General Board

"Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! In his great mercy he has given us new birth into a living hope.... Though you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and are filled with an inexpressible and glorious joy.... Therefore, prepare your minds for action; be self-controlled; set your hope fully on the grace to be given you when Jesus Christ is revealed.... Through him you believe in God, who raised him from the dead and glorified him, and so your faith and hope are in God."

1 Peter 1:3, 8, 13, 21

In August 1981, the General Assembly of the Mennonite Church, the churchwide and youth conventions, met on the campus of Bowling Green State University at Bowling Green, Ohio. Registrants included 2,112 adults, 1,538 youth, and 413 children (total 4,063). These meetings centered around the theme "Called to One Hope," a much needed theme in our time when so much hopelessness prevails.

In addition to providing a framework for an inspiring program for those who attended the assembly and convention, this theme was also selected to serve conferences and congregations in the coming biennium. It is to instruct and inspire the entire constituency so that the whole church can experience a renewed hope and outlook. Finally this theme is to direct our attention to the kingdom of God, already begun and still to come in all of its fullness.

The church's hope for the present and future is centered in Jesus Christ. Salvation comes only by believing in him. To Jesus all power and authority to bring God's eternal purposes to their glorious conclusion has been given.

As the church awaits God's appointed day, the glorious coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, it continues to live in hope. It looks forward to that day with great anticipation as it ministers and witnesses in the world, as directed by Christ. During 1982 the Mennonite Church will live in hope as it focuses attention on the following:

1. A Study of Justice and the Christian Witness

In 1977 the Mennonite Church General Assembly requested a study and updating of our church statements relating issues of justice/righteousness to our historic Christian peace witness. Prompted by similar concerns the General Conference Mennonite Church has joined us in this study. The task force brought its report to the 1981 General Assembly. A study guide has been developed for use in congregations and conferences as a tool to study the report and to give counsel to the total church. A revised statement will then be considered by the 1983 General Assembly.

2. Our Mission in Urban Areas

Our urban brothers and sisters have done the church a favor in focusing our vision on the great mission field in their areas. Historians may see the urban concerns call of 1977 and 1979 as a turning point in Mennonite Church life. We have just begun the mission which God has for the Mennonite Church in urban centers. While more is being done in urban concerns than what we are aware of, we need to be humble about our accomplishments, for there is much to be done.

Conferences and churchwide agencies will continue to minister to these congregations and develop new and improved programs of witness and service in urban areas. If we respond faithfully to the Spirit's leading, the urban program of the church will grow larger in the coming years.

3. Men and Women in Leadership Ministries

At Bowling Green the General Assembly affirmed the revised document, "Leadership and Authority in the Church," a summary statement of current understandings in the Mennonite Church. The Assembly urged that careful attention be given to the biblical principles identified in the statement and encouraged continuing conference and congregational study of those issues which need further attention. It encouraged members to give and receive counsel in the work of the church, and gratefully affirmed the many gifts which the Spirit provides for the good of the body.

The General Assembly proposed that the statement be accepted with further study on the question of women in leadership, and that calling forth gifts should be the basis of discerning leadership . . . in both men and women. The Assembly also authorized the General Board to study and facilitate the process of the full participation of women in leadership ministries of the church. A committee has been appointed to listen to the church's concerns, monitor and observe how women are already serving, continue the study and interpretation of relevant Scriptures, and be available as a resource to the church when requested.

4. Black and Hispanic Caucus Growth

There are approximately fifty congregations participating in each of the black and Hispanic caucuses. These caucuses have helped minority groups to become a functional part of the Mennonite Church. They have become the means for providing fellowship with other Christians of similar experiences and need. The caucuses serve as a forum in which distinct needs are identified and given attention. They help to prepare minorities for full participation in the life of the church with its institutions and history. They also help the church to sense how minority groups can be included and incorporated into its life and mission.

As minorities grow and as their experiences increase, their place in the life of the church also changes. Thus in order to facilitate positive working relationships, their place in the churchwide structure needs to be updated and clarified. This review will be done in close cooperation with the General Board.

5. Stewardship and Fund-Raising

The General Board has appointed a task force to study the total stewardship services in the Mennonite Church. It is to evaluate the present stewardship services being provided, propose a stewardship vision for the next five to ten years, and propose a plan and time schedule for carrying out the vision.

The task force is proposing that all Mennonite Church members:

a. Recognize and acknowledge God as the owner and giver of all resources.
b. Adopt the firstfruits tithe as a minimum standard for proportionate giving.
c. Dedicate time for voluntary service in the mission of the church, at home and/or abroad.
d. Adopt a modest standard of living.
e. Plan for the distribution of their resources by making a will and including the church in it.
f. Be good stewards of what resources are kept—spending, investment, saving, business, etc.

6. Being Peacemakers

The 1981 General Assembly adopted the statement on "Resolution Concerning Security and the Current World Arms Race," sent letters to the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Canada, and spent time in prayer for government leaders.

The Assembly also directed the General Board to develop and maintain supportive contacts with sister churches who are also concerned about the arms race. It authorized that letters of greetings to be sent to them to communicate our understandings and to signify our openness for further contact and cooperation. Finally the Assembly briefly discussed the matter of payment of those taxes used for military purposes. In view of the broad differences of opinion and conviction, further study will be given to this subject.

7. Evaluating and Updating Mennonite Church Organization

Some changes have already been made in the church organization that was adopted in 1971. In light of the additional changes that are being suggested, the General Assembly authorized the appointment of a committee to review and evaluate our churchwide reorganization and its ten-year performance. They are to bring a report, recommendations, and bylaw change proposals to the 1983 General Assembly.

8. Planning for Convention 83

Planning for the next General Assembly session and meeting of the churchwide conventions has already begun. Major features of the August 1-7, 1983, meeting will be the interaction of the General Conference Mennonite and Mennonite Church groups on the Lehigh University campus, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. The celebration of the tricentennial of Mennonites coming to North America provides the occasion for these two groups to come together. While at some distance from Germantown, the focal site of the tricentennial, Lehigh University offers the only suitable facilities for the event.

With few exceptions committees will be joint but leadership may be either GC or MC. While many events are planned as joint activities, the business will be conducted in separate sessions.

The Convention Planning Committee has chosen Ephesians 2:20, "Christ the Cornerstone," as the theme. This theme focuses on our history, our common faith, and that which is crucial to our ongoing life.

9. Speaking Out on Moral Issues

The Mennonite Church is feeling the effects of the North American sexual revolution. With society's greater openness to talk about sex-related issues, there has also been greater openness in expressing preference for a wide range of sexual identities and behaviors. In such a climate, it becomes increasingly urgent for the church to speak forthrightly as it discerns the mind of Christ.

Recognizing the need for further study, self-examination, and biblical discernment, the General Board in consultation with MBCM has appointed a study committee on "Human Sexuality in the Christian Life." Committee members include persons with skills in areas such as biblical study, theology, pastoral counseling, medicine, psychiatry, and family life education.

The goal of the study will be to develop guiding principles which can assist congregations, pastors, and counselors in relating redemptively to persons struggling with a broad range of human sexuality issues. The committee may recommend to the General Board a process for broader participation in the study by congregations and the larger church.

By authorizing this study the General Assembly is not advocating a change in its position with regard to premarital, extramarital, and homosexual practices. But in light of present-day questions being raised it is appropriate that the church restate its beliefs and apply them to the moral issues which members are facing.

10. Vision for Witness

The coordinating council prepared a vision statement which will guide Mennonite Church staff and boards in the conduct of their work. It is as follows:

"The urgent task of the church in all generations is to witness to Jesus Christ as the only Lord and Savior of the world.

"Mennonite Church leaders in congregations, in conferences, and in churchwide agencies are saying that we need to recover and focus on the centrality of bringing people to Jesus Christ in all his fullness.

"The implications of this vision must be carefully spelled out as they relate to church structure, congregational life, and the personal lifestyle and discipleship of all God's pilgrim people."

Conclusion

Let us follow Christ with the clear conviction that we are on the winning side. For Jesus Christ is already Lord and his kingdom has already come. We look forward with him to that great culmination when all shall acknowledge his lordship. The message of his kingdom is dynamic, exciting, and always new. We must share it locally and worldwide in every possible way.

On the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Hispanic Mennonite Ministry

The Spirit of Ebenezer

by Jose M. Ortiz
Associate General Secretary for Hispanic Concerns
Mennonite Church General Board

Within the Jewish community there was a tendency to look to the past as a way to express God's faithfulness to them. In the New Testament the Christian community looks into the future as their source of hope since they live under the promise that Jesus will come again.

In looking back to sense God's faithfulness let us observe that mission work among Hispanics followed the mustard seed approach as expressed in the Gospels. There was an absence of detailed strategies or master plans, but fifty years ago Mennonites were led by the Holy Spirit to cross cultural barriers and present Christ to the flow of Hispanics entering into the United States. In 1932, through the efforts of the Mennonite Board of Missions, the first witness effort began in Chicago, Illinois, with families of Mexican descent. The Lawndale congregation is an expression of that ministry. In New York City, following a people's movement, Gladys Witmer, a missionary to Puerto Rico, contacted Puerto Rican believers who were migrating to the United States. By the mid-fifties Gladys moved to New York and continued her ministry. The First Mennonite Church of Brooklyn is the fruit of those efforts. As migrant workers followed the harvest into Ohio some of them were contacted by local Mennonites and were led into the Christian faith. Some families decided to settle in the Archbold and Defiance areas. The Good Shepherd and the First Mennonite congregations continue as an active outreach of the ministry of William Flory who had this vision in the mid-fifties. Other Mennonites, mostly youth, served in Hispanic communities as part of the Voluntary Service Program. The South Texas Ministerial Council and the congregations they represent (Alice, Church of the Lamb, Prince of Peace, Calvary, El Mesias Iglesia Menonita, and United) are a direct result of those service ministries.

Two current leaders symbolize the work among Hispanics. Margarito Bustos was raised in the San Antonio, Texas, area and after service with the Marines, moved to Chicago and became acquainted with the Mennonites. He, along with his wife, Mary, responded to a call to the ministry and about 1963 moved to Davenport, Iowa, to develop work among the Hispanics in the area on a self-support basis. There are now three stable congregations (Iglesia Evangelical Menonita, Second Spanish Mennonite, and Muscatine) in the area. Local leadership has emerged.

Artemio de Jesus moved from Cayey, Puerto Rico, to Lancaster, Pennsylvania, where he met the Lord. Once he entered into the faith he has become a well-known pastor and evangelist and has served in a missionary role in Santo Domingo. Artemio has not been privileged with a formal education, but once the Lord called him, "he left the nets," and his ministry has been fruitful. Thus Artemio de Jesus and Mac Bustos represent Hispanic pastors, who were called to faith, called to the ministry, and who developed significant ministries as they were on the go, in transition, but capitalized on the opportunity to witness to others as they went. Through these leaders God's faithfulness has been made known.

As we look forward to our fiftieth-year anniversary we will review what has taken place in the Hispanic Mennonite Church. The sixth Convention of the Concilio Nacional of Hispanic Mennonites will gather on the campus of Hesston College during August 10-13. We will celebrate our anniversary by:

—Writing and sharing our history, documenting the event in essays, pictures, and audio-visuals and people stories.

—Celebrating through worship and workshops the coming together and the formation of our peoplehood, by sharing the bread, the wine, our agonies, and our visions.

—Joining with Anglos and blacks to witness of our coming together as brothers and sisters under the lordship of Christ.

Participants in the First Hispanic Pastor Encounter held May 1981 on the campus of Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana. Included are pastors from North America, as well as from eight Latin-American countries. Photo by José M.Ortiz.

—Facing the future with assertiveness as we identify the pastoral agenda for the closing of this century.

—Identifying adequate symbols to express new administrative models to facilitate the ministry of the church.

—Recognizing and expressing gratitude to God for providing us with leaders who have been faithful stewards in giving themselves so that the church might develop.

There are many ways to describe an anniversary. Ours is one that expresses growth. There has been numerical growth, from 184 members in 1955 to 498 in 1970 to over 1,500 in 1981. Twenty years ago there were 9 congregations, now there are over 50. Hispanic pastors are now in charge of congregations. Many of our members are serving in churchwide program boards and agencies of the Mennonite Church. Over fifty of our people are attending Mennonite colleges and seminaries. Professional and business leaders are emerging among us and some of our members hold doctoral degrees. The Spanish literature is developing and new models for structuring the work of the Concilio Nacional are being proposed. These developments reflect the collective efforts of church agencies, program boards, conferences, and local congregations. While some financial resources come from conferences, the trend for local groups to assume a larger share of these expenses continues.

In spite of the spirit of growth and victory there are still symbols and forms of oppression that Hispanics experience as a minority group in North America. Like other minority groups, Hispanics suffer when they need to:

—Function and perform in a foreign language. English is the second language for most.

—Operate in styles and structures of administration borrowed or imposed from others. At times the budgets and dollars have been instruments of violence.

—Observe the exploitation of the "hermanos y hermanas" (brethren) on the farms, in the factories, and in the Latin-American soil by an unjust social order.

—Experience the departure of their children when they join the armed forces because there are no jobs available to them in the marketplace.

—See the assimilating society doing away with our cherished value system of the extended family, the spirit of celebration, and the pietism being replaced by secular humanism.

In our celebration we are also writing an agenda for a nomad church. The close of the century will demand from the Mennonite Hispanics a prophetic voice, to live in the expectancy of the kingdom, building a Christian community which stretches from Edmonton to Toronto, from Los Angeles to New York, and from Chicago to Florida, led by pastors who have roots in Mexico, Central America, Puerto Rico, Santo Domingo, and other republics in South America from Colombia to Argentina.

We will celebrate the past, and do it with joy, but also accept the challenge of the future in the spirit of Ebenezer—"Hitherto the Lord has helped us."

Regional Directory of Congregations

This directory lists Mennonite Church congregations according to the region in which they are located. Within each region, congregations are listed alphabetically by state/ province and city. This directory includes all the Mennonite Church congregations which are listed in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations." Most of these congregations are members of district conferences; however, some ("Unaffiliated Mennonite Congregations") are not related to any district or conference. Most participate in the regional activities and send delegates to the General Assembly; however, some consider themselves part of the larger Mennonite church body, but choose not to participate in the programs of the region or the General Assembly. These factors are noted at the beginning of each regional listing.

In addition, the directory includes all congregations affiliated with the Brethren in Christ, General Conference Mennonite, Mennonite Brethren, Evangelical Mennonite Brethren, Evangelical Mennonite Church, Evangelical Mennonite Conference of Canada and the Evangelical Mennonite Mission Conference of Canada churches. These are integrated with the Mennonite Congregations but set in italic type for ease of identification. Information listed about these congregations includes name, number, affiliation (BIC—Brethren in Christ; EMB—Evangelical Mennonite Brethren Conference; EMC—Evangelical Mennonite Church; EMCC—Evangelical Mennonite Conference of Canada; EMMC—Evangelical Mennonite Mission Conference of Canada; GC—General Conference Mennonite; and MB—Mennonite Brethren), and location.

The geographical area, regional officers, committees, a summary of the Mennonite Church conference affiliation of congregations, membership, and a listing of delegates to Mennonite General Assembly are noted with each region. Information regarding district conference organizations, bishops/overseers, and congregations is found in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations" section of this volume.

The purpose of this directory is to provide information regarding the meetinghouse of the congregation. It is designed to assist readers in their efforts to find or contact the congregation at its meetinghouse. Note that the location of the meetinghouse is, in most cases, not a mailing address. All mail should be directed to the office or the contact person listed under the congregation in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregation." Persons desiring to get in touch with the pastor, or contact person of a congregation, should follow the information provided in the "Conference and District Directory of Congregations." Effort was made to secure complete and accurate information about each congregation listed. If there are errors and/or if there is data missing, please provide full information to the Editor, Mennonite Yearbook, Mennonite Publishing House, 616 Walnut Ave., Scottdale, PA 15683. Conference and District Directory of Congregations

This directory lists Mennonite Church conferences alphabetically by name of conference or district. Within each conference, congregations are listed alphabetically by name of congregation. Note one exception: The Conservative Mennonite Conference lists congregations alphabetically by country and state. Within each state, congregations are listed alphabetically by name. A few of the conferences and districts identify with the Mennonite Church at large, but do not participate with regional planning groups nor send delegates to the General Assembly. Note that the Eastern Pennsylvania Mennonite Church and the Beachy Amish are listed in separate directories later in this volume.

The purpose of this directory is to provide all the information needed to contact one person (Pastor or contact person) for a given congregation by mail or phone without needing to consult other sections of the Yearbook. This person is noted with a number 1 after the ministerial office code. Ordained persons who carry active responsibility in the congregations are also listed with each congregation. These carry a number 2. Ordained persons who carry district, conference, or churchwide responsibilities in addition to congregational duties are designated by the number 5.

Ordained persons who are retired (number 3); those who are without congregational responsibility (number 4); chaplains (6); those serving as active missionaries overseas (number 7); and those serving as staff members of a Mennonite Church-sponsored-or-related board, agency, or program (number 9) are listed in the "Ministerial Directory" only. Note one exception: In the listing of "Unaffiliated Mennonite Congregations," all ordained persons are included with each congregation regardless of their ministerial function.

The mailing address and telephone number of the church office is listed for those congregations whose office address or telephone number is different from that of the pastor or contact person. The address and telephone number of the pastor or contact person is the home address and number, not that of the meetinghouse or office. Information regarding the meetinghouse (location, telephone, etc.) is provided in the "Regional Directory of Congregations" section of this volume. An example of a complete congregational listing is as follows:

name of congregation	cong. number	year founded	cong code	dist. conf. cross ref no.	city, state/province	region	primary conf. affiliation	cong. members

Communities listed relate in a variety of ways to the Mennonite Church, as well as other churches and movements. Most communities follow a multiple-shared pattern of leadership. However, in this listing , the name of only one person is given in order to provide a point of contact with the community. Directory of Overseas Mennonite Churches

(Related to the Mennonite Church)

This directory lists those overseas Mennonite churches which emerged out of the mission work conducted by the Mennonite Board of Missions, as well as district and conference mission boards. These overseas conferences, though independent, maintain continuing fraternal ties to the Mennonite Church in North America.

Conferences are listed alphabetically by name. Within each conference the congregations or districts are listed alphabetically by name of congregation. (A few are listed alphabetically by states or areas, then by name.) Each congregational listing includes the name of the pastor or leader. In most cases only one name is included. Others active in the leadership of the congregation are included in the "Ministerial Directory." A complete congregational listing would include the following: (See beginning of "Conference and District Directory of Congregations" for explanation of status of pastor/leader. Note that the geographical location of the meetinghouse is not a mailing address. Send all correspondence in the name of the pastor or leader whose address is found in the "Ministerial Directory" of this volume.)

Directory of Mennonite Church Organizations

The churchwide mission of the Mennonite Church is carried out through the boards listed below. These are supported by contributions from the membership, with exception that the program of the Mennonite Mutual Aid Board is supported by enrollment in their services and the program of the Mennonite Publication Board is supported by purchases of books, curriculum materials, and periodicals.

The 1982 combined budget of the churchwide agencies is $8,305,289. The average per member contribution needed by each of the agencies is as follows: Mennonite Board of Congregational Ministries, $6.50; Mennonite Board of Education, $1.75; Mennonite Board of Missions, $67.75; seminaries, $9.00; colleges, $21.00, Mennonite Church General Board, $3.25; minority education, $4.00. This is a total per member average giving goal of $113.25.

Inter-Mennonite agencies approved for churchwide support include Mennonite Central Committee, for which each conference and congregation is to determine the per member giving, and Mennonite World Conference, for which a $.25 per member giving is suggested.

GENERAL INFORMATION AND STATISTICS

Date of organization: 1920

Purpose and function: MCC is the cooperative relief and service agency of 17 North American Mennonite and Brethren in Christ churches and conferences. Central for Mennonites is Christ's call for Christians to reflect the compassion of Jesus, teach the good news to the poor, proclaim liberty for the captives and recovery of sight for the blind, and set at liberty those who are oppressed. Community development, peacemaking, and material aid are carried on "in the name of Christ" in response to Christ's command to teach all nations the way of discipleship, love and peace.

1 All data on this table are for youth and students from North American Mennonite Church congregations, students from other Mennonite groups (including overseas conferences) and non-Mennonite students are not included in these numbers. The 'Estimated College-Age Population' column includes only youth from major Mennonite Church groups (see list of conferences on Table XVII).

2 Numbers for Mennonite colleges and seminaries are for full-time students only, numbers for other colleges and universities may include some part-time students.

Notes

In addition to the Mennonite Church students of Table XVIII, the data in this table includes all other students. The first column for each school lists full-time students, and in the second column part-time students are added.

Some of the schools, especially the seminaries, have a significant ministry to students not taking course work for credit. These audit and extension students are not included in the numbers reported here.

Mennonite Church Ministerial Directory

This directory lists all ordained persons who are members of the Mennonite Church in North America and the Overseas Mennonite Churches related to it. (Note: Ordained members of the Beachy Amish Church and the Eastern Pennsylvania Mennonite Church are found in separate directories in the section "Other Mennonite Conferences.") The information provided for each person is as follows: name; address; telephone; office and function; date of birth; date of ordination as deacon, minister, and bishop; congregational name and number (if person carries function No. 1); conference affiliation; and the region in which the person lives. See example below. Where information is not available or not applicable (for example, the category of region for Overseas Mennonite Churches), it is omitted. Codes used in this listing are noted below.

Every effort has been made to secure complete and accurate information for each name. However, the situation of a person may change or the information was not available at the time when it was gathered. If there are errors and/or there is information missing, please send the correct and/or full information to: Editor, Mennonite Yearbook, Mennonite Publishing House, 616 Walnut Ave., Scottdale, PA 15683. Your help will make the Mennonite Yearbook a more useful and reliable tool for each member of the church in North America and around the world.
